GREENVILLE

Rev. William F. Newton Preaches at Evangelistic Service at Third Baptist Church—Death of Patrick Gallagher—Local Mention.

Rev. W. F. Newton continued the evangelistic services in the Third Baptist church on Monday evening, preaching an inspiring sermon in his characteristic direct and forceful manner. The congregation was larger than at last week's meetings, showing an increasing interest, but still larger attendance is desired and expected for coming nights. Rev. Dr. A. B. E.
Coats was unable to be present, being called back to Hartford Monday, but he is expected to be present to assist Rev. Newton during the remainder of the meetings.

The meeting Monday night was a congregation meeting. It opened with the singing of hymns, and prayer, and was offered by the pastor, Rev.
J. R. Verry. The noted smile song was sung with effect by Rev. W. F. Newton, who took occasion to speak briefly of his work in connection with the Baptist Publication society.
The sermon was the leader's thought of his sermon, and Acts 13:38 was taken for a text. This religion of Jesus is the only religion that teaches the forgiveness of sin.

None of us are a bit better than anybody else, said the speaker. We are all of the same material, good in spots.
We should become humble, for he who humbleth himself shall be exalted by God, and we are sure feeling when we go to God. It is sweet to be humble, a help and a blessing to people.
But when we get on a high horse and think we are right, let me tell you we are wrong every time. We need to look into our hearts and get right with ourselves, then we will get right with everyone else.

Mr. Newton spoke of the need of forgiveness. God forgives us just as we forgive others, and if we forgive not, we must pay the penalty. One of the precious things about forgiveness is getting along with people who have struggled against us. If you have any neighbors you don't like, take them over a loaf of cake. If thine enemy hunger, feed him.

It costs something to live the Christian life. It must be lived by sacrifice. Jesus Christ lived a life of sacrifice. When he was reviled he reviled not, when he suffered he threatened not, and he suffered all this for you.
How much are you willing to sacrifice for him? It is easy to say I am going to have my rights, it is Christlike to forgive.

The speaker told of a man who boasted that he had been a member of the church for twenty-one years, and it had cost him only seven cents. How much religion did he have? The man who gives the most is the richest man, the man with the largest and warmest heart. D. O. O'Leary left an inventory of only $500, and he had handled millions of dollars. He had spent it all for the poor boys and girls at Northfield, he had such large-heartedness and sympathy.

The thing to do is to bury the past and never bring it up again. It is our duty to stand in our place whether it pleases us or not, and it ought to be our sweet and loving service to God, to deny ourselves, and take up our cross and follow him.

Blood Poisoning in Thumb.
Motorman George Smart of the Connecticut company is suffering from a bad case of blood poisoning in his thumb. Mr. Smart recently moved here from Wauregan and while unpacking a case he scratched his thumb. It is thought the blood poisoning was caused by the brass brake and controller handles on the car coming in contact with the wound. The thumb is much swollen at present.

Death of Patrick Gallagher.
The death of Patrick Gallagher, a former resident of Greenville, occurred last week in Lawrence, Mass., where he had been living. Mr. Gallagher was lived here for a number of years and leaves a wife and one child, who live at the corner of North Main and Sixth streets.

Personals.
John J. Carey was a visitor in Hartford Monday.

William Hoar of Central avenue has recovered from an attack of grip.

William I. Allen of Leyward was a visitor in Greenville on Monday.

Miss Ruth Nicolai of Poquetanuck was visiting local friends on Sunday.

A. B. Maine of Hickory street was a visitor in North Stonington on Sunday.

Mrs. William G. Baker of Twelfth street, who has been ill for several weeks, was able to be out riding on Monday.

Thomas Murphy, who has been employed by the Connecticut company, has returned to work in Hopkins & Allen's.

Local friends have received word that James Ward, formerly of Norwich, is pleased with the position of quartermaster he recently took for the Hartford transportation company.

By the expenditure of a little money for dynamite for removing certain old Roman bridge piers and other obstructions the Tigris could be made navigable for a long reach toward Bagdad.
This would make steamboating on the upper Tigris very profitable.

MANDAMUS HEARING

Judge Greene Reserved His Decision After Hearing the Testimony and Arguments—Miller Case will be Resumed this Morning.

Judge Greene in the superior court was engaged all day Monday hearing the question of issuing a writ of mandamus in the Waterford school controversy. He reserved his decision, after hearing the testimony and arguments in the case, which is that of L. A. Comstock vs. E. J. Hempstead and others.

As the first witness for the day L. A.
Comstock was called and testified to having been born in Waterford in 1852, and has always voted there. He has lived in his own house in Waterford 14 years, and about nine years ago moved to his sister's house, where he lived with his family. Less than a year ago he moved to a tenement over the Montville line owned by Mrs.
Starr, but since then had often slept with his children in a furnished room at his sister's. It was his intention to move back there, should her death occur, she being in very poor health.
He lived the house by the month, but had no intention of residing there permanently. He testified to being elected a member of the Waterford school board at the last election, and stated that the compensation is $35 a year.
Since the organization of the board he missed but one meeting, and was named to look after districts two and three, which he did until February 12, when he was removed from the board.

He was present at the meeting when he was voted out, the question being whether there was a vacancy on the board. He voted no. Since then he has not met with the board, as he received no notice of the meetings. He talked with Chairman Hempstead about the matter later, and at one time asked for reinstatement, but the chairman refused to call a meeting for that purpose. Mr. Hempstead asked if he supposed the board was going to be foolish enough to reinstate him after he had been ousted.

AT THE AUDITORIUM.
Vaudeville and Motion Pictures.
Mme. Anna Dix with her monkeys, seven of them, make up the feature act at the Auditorium this week, and had the crowded houses roaring with laughter on Monday. The little fellows were not in the best of humor, being balky about their tricks and igniting each others when they sat on the bench in their funny clothes, but added to the amusement of the audience. With more warmth in the theater, Mrs. Dix said the little fellows be on their good behavior. Funniest of all was the miniature merry-go-round, which she got a grip on the crowd with the organ while the others lay round on the horses.

An irresistible laugh producer is the turn put on by Anna Dix and her three feet of fether and six feet of son, who do a combination singing, talking and dancing act, which emphasizes the strong contrast in size in a ludicrous way.

Two musical numbers that get a good hand and a good call are the star of Down East Folks, and two acrobatic sisters, Bertina and Brockway.
Sadie gets a grip on the crowd with her singing and whistling numbers.

The acrobatic sisters prove that they can be acrobatic even if plentifully supplied with avoirdupois. The school-girl costumes they show a repertoire of songs, acrobatics and clog dancing that is a sight to see.

The illustrated song, The Star, The Rose and The Dream, is sung in good voice by Lillian Morelle, and the Auditorium duo has an attractive solo in Mendelssohn's I Would That My Love. There is an unusual selection of moving pictures.

TAFTVILLE

William Emerson Cut Blood Vessel in Arm—Weyquonno School Pupils Get Honors—Local Mention.

William Emerson of Slater avenue was striking in the blacksmith shop of the Fowemah mills on Monday afternoon about 2:30 o'clock, and a piece of steel flew from the anvil and cut a blood vessel in the upper part of his forearm. No difficulty was experienced in pulling the steel splinter out, but the cut bled considerably and a physician's services were required. Mr.
Emerson was attended by Dr. L. I.
Pratte at his office. It was quite a painful accident and Mr. Emerson will probably be kept from work for several days.

Honors Fall to Weyquonno School.
The fact that a third of the honors in the Hibernian essay contest came to the Weyquonno school is gratifying to Principal F. J. Werking and the teachers of the school. The study of English is made one of the strongest of the school's courses and the results thus far obtained have been pleasing.
The progress in English of the French children who have entered the school with little or no knowledge of how to speak, read or write the language, has been remarkably rapid. The Wey-quonno school closes on Thursday for the Easter recess of one week.

John Krauss Ill.
John Krauss is seriously ill at his home in Lisbon with a severe attack of rheumatism. He has been confined to his home for two weeks, and his condition, which remains about the same, is regretted sincerely by a wide circle of friends.

Taken to Hospital.
The ambulance took a woman from a house on Norwich avenue near the railroad station to the Backus hospital on Monday afternoon.

Personals.
Rev. C. H. Paquette of Willimantic was a visitor in Taftville Monday.

S. Howard Kenyon was in Moosup Sunday and returned with his son, who has been spending two weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Beausoleil, Jr., have returned after a week's visit with relatives in Worcester and Webster, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Chartier, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Froux and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lambert were the guests of friends in Jewett City Sunday.

Unclaimed letters at the Taftville postoffice are addressed to Wilfrid Baudry, Napoleon Bilado, Louis Bil-deau, Tom McCaffrey and William Hough.

Mrs. Josephine Marsan, who was taken suddenly and seriously ill with pleurisy at her home No. 8 Providence street, Saturday, was more comfortable on Monday. Mrs. Marsan, who is 52, shows much physical and mental activity for her years, being able to go to the city on Friday, the day before her illness.

OCCUM AND VERSAILLES
Birthday Surprise Party for G. W.
Allen.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. W.
Allen there was a very pleasant gathering on Saturday evening, when the party friends assembled as a surprise to Mr. Allen, Saturday being his birthday. The evening was spent in music and games, and refreshments were served.
